400,000 Rail Shopmen Strike Saturday Unless Roads Stay Wage Cut

JEWELL INFORMS RAIL EXECUTIVES OF THE DECISION

Only Immediate Conference, Which Is Considered Unlikely, Can Avert the Walk-Out

Action Defended

Unfair Methods of Negotiation Between Roads and Employes Held Responsible for Strike

(By the Associated Press)

Chicago, June 27.—A strike of the 400,000 railway shopmen of the country will be called for July 1 unless the railroads agree to stay the $60,000,000 wage cut due the shop workers on that date and to restore certain working conditions formerly in effect, it was made known tonight through a telegram from B. M. Jewell, head of the shop crafts, to the Association of Railway Executives. Decision to call a strike came late today after a lengthy discussion by the executive committee of the six shop crafts unions, based on the strike vote of the men thus far tabulated.

Should the rail heads arrange an immediate conference, agreeing meanwhile to continue present wages, restore working rules modified by the Railroad Labor Board, and discontinue farming out railroad work, however, a walk-out can be halted, the telegram said. Otherwise a sanction of withdrawal from employment on July 1, 1922, as voted by the employes, "will be unavoidable."

"Overwhelming Majority"

The 2,500-word telegram, addressed to T. DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway Executives, threw no light on the actual strike vote beyond saying it was "an overwhelming majority." Ballots were still counting in it, it was said, as they were returned until June 30. A two-thirds majority is required by the union laws to call a strike.

Although the actual call for the walk-out was made dependent on the railway executives' reply to President Jewell's ultimatum, little expectation was expressed in railroad circles tonight that the executives would agree to such sweeping demands as those made by the unions.

Six international union presidents formed the executive council of the national section, railway employes' department of the American Federation of Labor, were responsible for the strike decision. Closed for two days in secret session, they remained silent on their action until tonight.

The union heads who will issue the strike call if the proposed conference cannot be consummated are J. W. Egan, International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths, Drop Forgers and Helpers of America; J. A. Franklin, International Brotherhood of Boiler Makers; Iron Shipbuilders and Helpers of America; J. J. Lyons, Amalgamated Street Vender Workers' International Alliance; James P. Noonan, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers; Martin F. Ryan, Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America.

Insistence that the railroads have acted on a common position to reduce wages and obtain other advantages to the carriers, President Jewell's message pointed out one benefit which may come to the carriers and their employees and to the general public from the fact that there are national spokesmen of the conflicting interests who might be able to halt a nationwide withdrawal of men from employment in the railway service "if the railway executives sincerely desire to avoid this consequence of their previous course of action."

Terms of Proposed Conference

"For this reason," the telegram said, "in behalf of and by authority of the executive council of the railway employes' department, I am informing you, and through you informing the responsible heads of the various railway systems in the United States and also the Pullman company, most of which are represented in the Association of Railway Executives, that unless an immediate arrangement can be made:

"1. To continue the payment of wages at present in force;

"2. To restore operation under Rules 6, 10, 12, 14, 15, 46 and 177 as they existed prior to the amendments thereof proposed in Decision No. 222;

"3. To discontinue the contracting out of work in shops pending negotiations between the Association of Railway Executives and the railway employes' department, looking toward adjustment of the existing disputes upon these questions:

"A sanction of withdrawal from employment on July 1, 1922, as voted by the employes, will be unavoidable."

The three points on which the executives are asked to meet the employes' demands are identical with the three questions on which the employes are now completing their strike vote. While union heads expressed the veiled hope that the railroad heads might listen to their last-minute truce proposal, the suppressed excitement and tense atmosphere around union headquarters seemed to portend some momentous action.

It was learned that the general committee of the Federated Shop Crafts would continue its meetings tomorrow, with the drafting of a strike program on the subject of discussion. Blame for the entire strike situation was placed squarely on the shoulders of the railway executives by President Jewell's telegram. He declared that the passage of the transportation act had resulted in a series of controversies between the roads and their employes which had developed a situation wherein nearly one million men, or two-thirds of those in railroad employ today, are taking strike vote. Besides shopmen, the maintenance of way laborers, firemen and oilers, and part of the clerks and signalmen are balloting on the strike question.

Railroad's Policies Attacked

The telegram reviewed rail events since the passage of the transportation act and dwelt strongly on the refusal of the executives to establish boards of labor adjustment, provided for in the act to settle local or regional disputes.

"It became evident early in the development of the present controversies," said the telegram, "that the purposes of the carriers in dealing with their employes were:

"First—To organize managements for national action in support of uniform policies.

"Second—To avoid negotiations with the employes organized likewise for national action.

"Third—To attempt to impose the national policies of managements upon local organizations of employes.

"Fourth—Upon the inevitable failure of such unfair methods of negotiation, to throw upon the Railroad Labor Board an unintended and impossible burden of arbitration."

"The railway executives have been able by concerted action to induce members of the Labor Board to overthrow the precedents of a generation of arbitration establishing a principle that the financial obligations of a railroad do not provide a reason for denying to the workers a just and reasonable wage," the telegram said.

"It should be clear that the conduct of the carriers has operated intentionally to create dissatisfaction among the employes and to hamper their collective efforts simply to maintain reasonable wages and working conditions."

"The unhappy result" of the railroads' policy has been the decision of the employes by an overwhelming majority to withdraw from the service rather than continue "under these intolerable conditions," the telegram concluded.

Agreement on the Pennsylvania

Philadelphia, June 27.—Announcement was made late today by the Pennsylvania railroad that agreements on reduction of wages have been reached between the management and the elected representatives of 42,500 of its employes. The settlement affects the maintenance of way department, embracing 39,100 men, and the employes of the telegraph and signal department, numbering 3,400 men.

"The revised scales become effective July 1. They involve reductions which have been mutually agreed upon by the management and the employes, and to the general public from the fact that there are national spokesmen of the conflicting interests who might be able to halt a nationwide withdrawal of men from employment in the railway service "if the railway executives sincerely desire to avoid this consequence of their previous course of action."

"House Conductor" Offers Plan

Washington, June 27.—A joint resolution which would authorize the Railroad Labor Board to rescind its decision reducing the wages of railroad employes effective July 1 was introduced in the house today by Representative Burke, Republican of Pennsylvania, a member of the Order of Railway Conductors of the Baltimore & Ohio system.

The Burke resolution embodied a declaration that the "decision of the board savors so much of one-sided justice and has caused such dissatisfaction and discontent that a strike seems both imminent and inevitable." It also asserted that "the American standard of living cannot be maintained on a minimum wage proposed by the board of 23 cents an hour or $1.84 a day."

Maintenance Men Favor Strike

Detroit, June 27.—Approximately 35,000 votes had been tabulated tonight in the strike referendum conducted by the United Brotherhood of Railway Shop Laborers, according to information forthcoming from the general headquarters here. It was announced that the situation is unchanged, the membership generally favoring a walk-out in protest against the impending wage cut, provided other unions join in.

A spokesman for the union reiterated it now seemed assured that approximately 400,000 ballots would be cast, which would be virtually a 100 per cent. vote from the brotherhood members, together with a vote of approximately 150,000 in the ranks of non-union workers in the maintenance crafts who also are participating in the referendum.

CHICAGO GREATWESTERN DEFIES THE LABOR BOARD

Chicago, June 27.—A flat refusal to appear before the United States Railroad Labor Board and the announcement of its intention of pursuing its policy of contracting railroad shop work constituted the answer of the Chicago Greatwestern railroad today when cases were called before the board over contract disputes with the shop crafts and maintenance of way unions.

The Erie, one of the leading exponents of contract work in the country, was again before the board today in a dispute brought by the American Federation of Railroad Workers. About 300 men are said to have been transferred from the company's employ to that of the Lincoln Engineering corporation, the federation charged, and have been paid from five to ten cents an hour less than formerly, it was declared.

Details of the contract between the Erie and the company were read before the board, showing that the work was contracted on a cost-plus basis, with specified rates of pay for the contractor's employes which were less than the rates fixed by the board.

FOUR MEN HELD FOR PAY ROLL ROBBERY

Answer Description of Bandits Who Relieved Bronx Messengers of $3,500

New York, June 27.—Four men, said by the police to answer the description of the bandits who early today robbed two Bronx Bank messengers of a $3,500 payroll, were arrested this afternoon in Mt. Vernon. The car in which the men were taken also was said to answer the description of the one in which the bandits escaped.

Detectives from the Bronx were sent to Mt. Vernon immediately after the report of the arrest was received, bringing the suspects to New York for possible identification. Alfred Costino, 42 years old, a laundry wagon driver of the Bronx, died in Lincoln hospital of a wound suffered when James McClary, one of the messengers, fired after the bandits. McClary was held on a technical charge of homicide.

Adrian Brode, the other messenger, may lose the sight of his right eye as a result of the blow from the pistol of one of the bandits.

DOCTOR REFUSED ENTRANCE TO HOME OF OSCAR A. HIRSH

Freeport, June 27.—A doctor sent by Assistant District Attorney Edwards today to examine Oscar A. Hirsh, who was shot on the lawn of the home of Miss Reine Davies, actress, last Saturday night, returned with the report that he was denied admittance to the house.

He was told, he said, that he would first have to get permission from George M. Levy, counsel for Mrs. Hirsh, who is charged with having shot her husband.

A doctor was sent to the Hirsh home when it was reported that Hirsh was in a serious condition. Mr. Edwards said he contemplated no further steps to learn how Hirsh is getting along.

REBEL HOLDS 40 AMERICANS

Ransom He Demands Is Ready But No One Knows Where He Is Located

EMBASSY AT WORK

American Charge Urges Immediate Action on Mexican Government to Secure Release

(By the Associated Press)

Washington, June 27.—Forty American employes of the Cortez Oil company, near Tampico, and destructive property valued at a quarter of a million dollars are being held by a rebel general until ransom of 15,000 pesos is paid, according to a message received today from the American embassy at Tampico to the state department.

The dispatch was dated yesterday and said that the rebel General Grorazabe had seized the company's property and was holding it with 240 well-armed men. The rebels in the state department to the embassy in Mexico City and to the consul at Tampico to urge the Mexican authorities to take the proper action for the protection of the American property.

The consul reported that Grorazabe had demanded payment of 15,000 pesos within 48 hours from yesterday morning, when his forces seized the property. The message said also that there were no Mexican federal troops in the vicinity.

Vigorous Methods Urged. The consul's message contained few details. It said there were no Mexican forces in the vicinity and that the company had asked for protection for its American employes and property. As the message was dated yesterday, the time for payment of the ransom was said to expire sometime today. The state department sent this message to the embassy at Mexico City, similar instructions going to the consul at Tampico, at the same time.

"Urging the proper authorities to adopt vigorous measures to protect the lives and properties of American citizens reported held by the rebel general Grorazabe and to punish the perpetrators of this outrage."

Meanwhile the department was still awaiting advice as to action taken by the Mexican government to obtain the release of A. Bruce Bielaski, captured by bandits and held for ransom not far from Mexico City, near Cuernavaca.

The embassy has communicated no additional details of Mr. Bielaski's capture since it received the department's instructions to press the Mexican authorities for prompt action in the case.

American Charge at Work. Mexico City, June 27.—Representations to the Mexican foreign office, urging immediate action to secure the release of 40 employes of the Cortez oil company held by the rebel general Grorazabe, were made last night by George T. Sumnerlin, the American charge d'affaires, it was announced today.

At the same time, the request was renewed for the release of A. Bruce Bielaski, former chief of the bureau of investigation of the American department of justice, who was kidnapped Sunday near Cuernavaca, and for the apprehension of his captors.

It is understood here that General Grorazabe, with 240 well-armed men, captured the oil company early last Sunday, demanding 15,000 pesos ransom within 48 hours from that time. With the expiration of this period today there was much apprehension, as it was not known whether or not the ransom money had been paid.

Up to noon today, neither the American embassy or Mrs. Bielaski had received definite word of Mr. Bielaski's release. An abundance of money to meet all ransom demands was available in Cuernavaca yesterday, and the entire day was spent in futile efforts to make contact with the bandits.

Erie Freight Train Crew Puts 8 Bandits to Rout

Hohokus, N. J., June 27.—At the cost of one man wounded, the crew of an Erie train today defended their cars from a dramatic attack by eight armed bandits, apparently seeking to raid $25,000 liquor shipments.

The train came to a sudden halt near Walwick, on a grade through a cut spanned by a bridge. The bandits, in the center of the train, seized his shotgun, climbed to the top of the train and proceeded to investigate.

He had walked along the car tops half way to the engine when he discovered that two of the bandits had slashed the air hose between the cars in the center of the train and automatically thrown on the brakes.

As Hamilton approached, the pair fired. The detective dropped, wiggled to the edge of the car top, and saw five more bandits dash down one side of the gully and, with crowbars, attack the side door of one of the cars. Suddenly the eighth bandit appeared.

He was crouched on the bridge over the tracks and from his position he commanded the car tops. Soon he too opened fire.

Hamilton by this time was crawling toward one end of the car, hoping to drop down out of sight. He had progressed only a few feet, however, when he felt the sting of a bullet in his left leg. Clinging grimly to the brake wheel he saved himself from rolling to the ground.

The crew came running from both ends of the train. Seeing that their chances for making a haul were gone, the bandits took to their heels.

Hamilton was taken to Suffren, N. Y., and rushed to a hospital.

The wooded section in which the hold-up occurred was thoroughly searched without bringing trace of bandits or the automobile which they were believed to have left in hiding.

Investigation showed that the bandits had packed the car with liquor. It was filled with tobacco, instead of liquor.

RUSSIA MUST LAY ITS CARDS ON TABLE

No Thought of Credits Until It Has Shown World What It Intends to Do With Them

(By the Associated Press.) The Hague, June 27.—Determined to go to the limit of conciliation, European delegates today acceded to the Russian request to discuss credits first and at the initial joint meeting of the conference today Russian proposals were heard and an unequivocal reply was made to them.

The formal Bolshevik request for an arrangement for loans or credits was met by the pronouncement on the part of the Allies that before there could be any thought of credits, the world must know the exact situation in Russia and what the Soviets intended to do with the credits. Moreover, the Russians were informed that capital could only flow to Russia in proportion to the re-establishment of confidence, and confidence largely depended upon what the Bolsheviks did about private property and debts.

All three questions, it was declared, were interdependent and inseparable. Maxim Litvinoff, head of the Soviets, agreed to supply detailed information. The Bolsheviks resumed their communistic habit, began at Genoa, by issuing tonight a copy of a letter sent to President Poincaré of the central commission, demanding to know where France and Belgium stood and whether they intended to adhere to their attitude of aloofness, adopted at Genoa, on the question of restoration of private property confiscated by the Soviet government.

W. prosecution and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment, while Hough was sentenced to serve five years for violation of the espionage act.

HARDING'S VIEW OF COAL STRIKE

Negotiations Between Individual and Government Cannot Be Aired by Public Discussion

ACTION EXPECTED

Unions Firm, Operators Must Be Brought Into Conference, Officials Believe

(By the Associated Press)

Washington, June 27.—Indications were given at the White House today that the government soon would be able to make an announcement in the coal strike situation and that the step contemplated was a move to bring the various leaders together for a discussion of wage differences.

The coal situation in all its ramifications was understood to be one of the chief topics for consideration by President Harding at today's cabinet meeting. Just what form the move by the government will take no official was prepared to state, though it was understood that some government officials, after conferring with John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, were of the opinion that no break whatever could be expected in the ranks of union labor, and that a move was necessary to bring operators into conference at once.

President Harding was said to feel that the difficult and delicate negotiations between individuals and the government to bring about the meeting desired would not be aided by public discussion. Operators who have objected to meeting the miners in national wage conference and mine union spokesmen who have been refusing to meet operators in district conferences cannot be induced to yield their objections if they are publicly forced into concessions.

Operators, faced in some instances with conspiracy indictments under the Anti-trust law, have been participating in national wage fixing meetings, will not be asked to attend any conference unless the administration shares responsibility with them by participating in the joint meeting, it was added.

Further, the administration, it was said, does not yet contemplate any intervention except by persuasion and conciliation. If, however, voluntary action of the kind sought in the industry does not result and public safety is threatened the government will make its intervention "more pointed."

Any "proclamation in advance" of the government's purpose and detailed plan would endanger success, it was said. Requests for an administration explanation of views of the Herrin, Ill., disorders brought forth this reply: "Murder is everywhere committed by whomsoever committed, and there is never extenuation."

Herrin, Ill., June 27.—Herrin, its men and women and its babes in arms, tonight held a carnival across the street from the hospital where lie the wounded strikebreakers of Thursday's massacre.

Laughter and jokes floated across the summer night, paper caps adorned the heads of the gay throng, and last week's "Incident" was forgotten. The occasion began with a parade and a band blaring dance music from a truck. The mayor was there, and the chief of police, and all the local dignitaries.

"Just trying to forget last week's unfortunate event," it was explained. Reports reaching Herrin today that wounded men and firemen were being warned to leave their posts at several mines were denied by union officials and miners.

Attempts to verify the rumors that maintenance men in mines near Carterville had been warned to leave proved unavailing. All the mines were quiet today.

Mayor A. T. Pace and Charles Hughes, sub-district vice president, received telegrams this morning asking whether they would guarantee safe conduct to the 12 wounded non-union men still in the hospital here. Both replied that the survivors of the Carterville mine massacre would be guaranteed protection and escorted out of the county.

Tomorrow morning there will be a motor parade on the new highway to Binghamton and in the afternoon formal exercises will be held near New Milford. Governor Miller of New York and Governor Sprout of Pennsylvania are expected to attend.

For a considerable distance between this city and Binghamton this trail is built in the abandoned roadbed of the Lackawanna railroad.

Wins $8,000,000 in Suit Against Texas Company

New York, June 27.—The suit of George T. Rogers of Plainfield, N. J., against the Texas company, and Joseph M. Adams, to recover millions of dollars in royalties on the "Adams Process" for extracting gasoline from crude oil, was decided in Rogers' favor today by Justice John V. McAvoy of the supreme court.

Justice McAvoy ruled that Rogers had established his claim and was entitled to 40 per cent of the profits. It was estimated that the Standard Oil companies of New York and New Jersey, and other oil-producing companies, had paid royalties of about $20,000,000 for the use of the patents, which would yield Rogers, through the court's decision, about eight million dollars.

A HOMER IN ELEVENTH

A Four-Base Hit by Byrnes Into Trees at House in Center Field Turned Trick for Unadilla—Many Thrilling Situations—Errorless Ball.

One of the proudest, hardest fought and most interesting baseball battles of the season in this section, at least, was staged at Unadilla yesterday afternoon, when the home team managed to squeeze ahead by a homer in the eleventh round of the affair, winning 1 to 0. Just when it began to look as if the controversy would drag itself out to a useless tie, called on account of lack of illumination with which to see to play, it was a slip and tuck affair from the word "play" all the way through until the curtain act of Byrnes. The ball was hit hard and often, but when it came to fielding, every man was right on his toes and worked to perfection. The only misplay of the game was a battery error—a wild pitch—on the part of Mahady; all the other times the ball being handled without a semblance of mis-cue. Also, no man drew a free trip to first from either mound artist. At first, Swat Byrnes got 20 of the 33 putouts of his side, one of them being a left hand spear of Bridwell's foul liner in the fourth frame.

The single run of the overtime game was, as stated, a homer by the first sacker of Unadilla. The ball went very high and came down in the trees which spread their sheltering branches over the house in center field. Purcell pegged to Hatch, who relayed the ball to Bridwell, who sending the sphere homeward, but the play was of necessity hurried and the last lap of the relay was low and when McCarthy tagged the runner he was declared safe and the winning run of the controversy was across the pan. There were several dramatic and hair raising predicaments which enlivened the game. Twice Oneonta had a man on third, only to have Mahady fan the third out. Once was in the fifth when Reid had gotten to third on a single, a sacrifice and ground out, only to die there when the hard-hitting Purcell fell a victim of the shoots of Mahady. Again in the eleventh Hatch had driven a single across second into right, stole second, for the only filch of the long game, got third on the single illustration of a wild pitch in the affair and remained there when Hermann failed to locate the sphere with his war club, much to the satisfaction of the home contingent.

Other good, sensational plays were the fielding of Gilhooley of the play just before that, the one-handed catch and throw by Bridwell of a liner, and the manner in which Alexander handled, with the assistance of Bridwell, the intended sacrifice of Mahady in the ninth. The twirler had bunted in the air, with Gray on first. Alex ran up to get the ball, let it drop and then grabbed it and threw to Bridwell who was just off first when he made the catch. The latter touched Gray and then put his foot upon the sack before Mahady could reach the base. The infield fly rule was not in force because in case of a bunt hit there is no such thing as an out because of the infield fly rule.

There were three other double killings of the game. Mahady and Gray were the goats on the first occasion as in the last one. The former was on first when the pitcher swung on the ball in such a manner that the ball went directly down and to the plate, rebounding from this into McCarthy's waiting hands. The receiver threw to second, getting Gray and Farrell sent the ball to Alexander for the second out. There was another one in the seventh. Babe had gotten an infield single and been sacrificed to second. Hunter drove his stick into the ball, chasing to Bridwell, the latter getting his gloved hand way down and the ball stuck it. He got up and threw to second, catching Babe way off the sack.

Wiltse fanned the three batters who faced him in the eighth, but before that, in Oneonta's part of this inning, the visitor had been the sufferers of a double play. Farrell sent the ball into the open doors of the sllo factory, across the street in left field, but Hunter dove into the interior of the building, emerging almost immediately and throwing toward the diamond, hitting Farrell at second. The writer doesn't know why a ball which goes out of the sight of the umpire and out of the grounds shouldn't go for a homer. Anyway, the rules provide something along that line. Purcell dropped a bunt toward Steiner, sacrificing Steiner to the hot corner. Then Hatch drove a scorching liner at Mahady, which the latter managed to get his hands onto, but made a bad peg to third, trying to get Farrell, permitting the Penn diamond artist to come across with what was conceded to be the first run, but the Unadilla players acted under the assumption that the runner had not returned to the bag when he saw the peg was going wild and had, instead, gone directly for the plate. When the decision was called for from the base umpire, Dr. Smith, he admitted that he hadn't seen all of the play, but ruled the runner had not touched the base and was out.

Unadilla's Clarence Bird of Sidney has been engaged by Unadilla to officiate at their home games and gave entire satisfaction to all players and spectators alike. He will be remembered as the arbiter who gave such universal satisfaction to the crowds several years ago when he was handling an indicator before.

Oneonta plays at Walton today.

TWO GOVERNORS TO SPEAK

At Big Celebration of Completion of Lackawanna Trail Between Binghamton and Scranton at Binghamton Today.

Binghamton, June 27.—More than 3,500 automobiles are expected to pass through this city at noon Wednesday, in celebration of the official opening of the Lackawanna trail, connecting this city and Scranton. Governor Nathan A. Miller, New York, and Governor William C. Sproul, Pennsylvania, will speak at the courthouse here at noon as the parade passes by towards Johnson City, where all the cars will turn about and return through Binghamton to New Milford, Pa., where the principal program will be carried out.

The parade will start from Scranton at 8:25 o'clock in the morning and is scheduled to arrive here at noon. About 1,500 cars from Scranton and vicinity are expected to form the parade leaving that city, the procession to be enlarged by hundreds of automobiles from villages and towns through which the new highway runs. More than 1,000 automobiles from Binghamton will go to New Milford to head the parade through Halstead into Binghamton.

Governors Miller and Sproul will make their principal addresses at New Milford about 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, when Pennsylvanians and New Yorkers will meet to celebrate the opening of the new trail—a "short cut" to Scranton from this city.

SEEKS TO RECOVER LANDS

Attorney General of State Falls in Effort to Recover Title to Lands in Town of Colchester, Delaware County—Holding Court in Jail Argued as Unlawful.

An interesting case was before Justice Kellogg at chambers here on Saturday, involving the title to a parcel of land in the town of Colchester, Delaware county. The action was brought by Attorney General Newton of the state against John W. Ainslee and Jay Davidson and the plaintiff, the people of the state of New York, sought a decree holding that the state is seized in fee of the parcel. The comptroller of the state claims to have sold the lands involved for taxes during the year 1881.

The right of the state to the title to the land is contested by the defendants on the ground that they are the owners and entitled to the possession of the premises and that the state gave no notice of intention to redeem to parties occupying as required by law.

On the completion of the evidence and the submissions for the case, the court directed a verdict for the defendants, with costs. P. J. Finn appeared for the attorney general's office and Edward E. Conlon and Arthur G. Patterson of Walton for the defendants.

Writ Returnable Thursday.

In the case of the People ex rel Goldman Churchman against Arthur E. Hunt, sheriff of Tioga county. Case was before the court on the return of a writ of habeas corpus for the sheriff of Tioga county to show cause why the petitioner, Goldman E. Churchman should not be discharged from the jail at Tioga county, upon the ground (1) that the alleged term of court at which he was sentenced was held in the county jail, was unlawful and (2) that for the alleged manufacture of a quantity of liquor, he was fined the sum of two hundred dollars, with an alternative of two hundred days in Tioga county jail, which was beyond the jurisdiction of the court to direct, in that the petition of the Mullen-Gage act only permits the imposition of a fine, and not the alternative of a prison sentence in case of non-payment. Parties given until Thursday next, to file briefs.

PROHIBITION MAKES GOOD.
Dr. Woods Hutchinson, than whom there is no more careful student of the problems of medicine and of sociology as related thereto, has an article in the July number of the International magazine in which he answers in the affirmative the question, "Has prohibition made good?" The death rate, he says has fallen off, tuberculosis has lessened, there has been a striking improvement in feeding, clothing and general comfort of school children; there have been fewer strikes; many jails have been emptied and in some instances closed for lack of "patronage." And on the medical side, has been noted a falling off in the number of cases of acute alcoholism, insanity in public asylums, Delirium tremens has diminished more than eighty per cent. Contrary to gloomy predictions before prohibition, the use of drugs and narcotics has not increased. And further statements from several large employers of labor show that there are fewer accidents in the mills and factories and a diminution in the amount of valuable material wasted or spoiled. Also there has been an increase in bank deposits.

Included in statistics which Dr. Hutchinson quotes are the following: Out of 112,000 practicing physicians throughout the United States less than one-third have thought it worth while to take out their permits to prescribe whiskey or brandy for medicinal purposes. The death rate in the last three years has fallen from 14.2 to 12.3 per thousand, a saving of over 200,000 lives per year. In Boston there were 20,000 fewer arrests in the first year following prohibition. In Milwaukee, the number of drunk and disorderly arrests have fallen from 1,620 to 731, since the passage of the law and the total of arrests from all causes has dropped from 4,400 to 1,950. In Portland, Me., the total number of arrests for all causes has dropped from 6,459 in 1917 to 1,624 in 1920. In the Philadelphia General hospital, the cases of alcoholism have dropped from 2,326 in 1918 to 808 in 1920. The above figures are conclusive refutation of the assertion so often made by those who have given the subject no careful study, that prohibition is a failure.

WATER TRUCK VISITS COUNTY
State College Workers Bring All the Necessary Equipment and Set it Up in Novel Demonstration.

This county is one of those included in the schedule of the home water supply truck which has been sent out from the state college of agriculture at Ithaca this summer to show by actual demonstration how running water can be installed in any farm home.

County Agent Barlow announces that he has secured twelve demonstrations for this county and he has scheduled them as follows:

July 5—at 2 p. m. A. B. Phelps, South Edmeston.
July 6—at 10 a. m. C. E. Pittsley, Maple Grove.
July 6—at 2 p. m. Thompson farm, Rogers Hollow.
July 24—at 2 p. m. Otogo.
July 25—at 10 a. m. James Ferguson, Est. Milford Center.
July 26—at 2 p. m. Lena.
July 26—at 10 a. m. South Valley.
July 26—at 2 p. m. Floyd S. Wright, Westford.
July 27—at 10 a. m. Karl Green, Westville.
July 27—at 2 p. m. George Beadle, Whig Corners.
July 28—at 10 a. m. Burlington Flats.
July 28—at 2 p. m. Harold Gates, Unadilla Forks.

The definite place of meeting for those where no place is now given will be advertised later.

The college workers bring along all the necessary equipment and set it up before the eyes of those present at the demonstration. First a wall and a floor to represent the corner of a kitchen are put in place. Then a sink is put on the wall and an ordinary pitcher pump set up. After this has been explained a force pump is substituted for the pitcher pump and an overhead tank installed.

The county agent is most anxious that each of these demonstrations be well attended, inasmuch as he thinks it is one of the most practical and interesting that the farm bureau has ever arranged.

CURRENT PRESS COMMENT

Points a Lesson to Merchants.

An important lesson is pointed to merchants by Mrs. Peter Olsen, candidate for senator from Wisconsin, who told the members of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America in convention in Milwaukee that "advertising must play an important part in restoring prosperity and lasting peace."

She added that advertising must be made to appeal strongly to women for "we are the biggest buyers from retailers; we are natural bargain hunters and we want our money back if we are not satisfied."

In proportion as women buy do merchants move stocks of goods, and factories are in turn kept busy. That means that workers are able to earn wages, which they in turn can spend buying from retailers and making work for other men and women.

The circle is never ending, ever widening.

And the force behind it all, which continually drives on to greater activity, to greater spending and greater earning is advertising—which is nothing more nor less than telling the public simply, directly, forcefully, what goods are offered by storekeepers and at what prices. (Milwaukee Star-Gazette.)

Time to End Seniority Rule.
The New York Tribune picks from the confusion of congressional happenings a subject that should be made more of. The Tribune refers to consideration by the Democrats of a formal declaration against the seniority rule. It would be a good thing for congress and for the country if that miserable practice were abandoned by unanimous consent. It hangs on for no good reason—simply because it has become fixed in custom, and it has worked no end of mischief. (Wilkes-Barre Record.)

Wu Ting-fang.
Outside China Wu Ting-fang was perhaps better known than any other Chinese statesman of the late imperial and republican eras. His fame did not fill the world like the great Li Hung-chang's, but he has brought himself into much closer touch with western ideas, and he was one of the most potent influences in turning China's thoughts away from a closed past, pathetically isolated from modern progress. (New York Tribune.)

Their Close Acquaintance.
A chap who was hiring a car for use over the week-end of the house-party, after eliminating a lot of details in the transaction, inquired how many the car held. The native stroked his beard and scratched his head. "Well, she generally holds four, but seven can get along, if they're well acquainted." (Princeton Tiger.)

Ho Wonders.
The ultimate consumer is wondering if the law of supply and demand will operate on western melons and if the increased crop means lower prices. (Watertown Standard.)

Can't Be Done.
It is possible to tune out or disconnect radio noises, but the young woman who is taking vocal lessons next door is inescapable. (Boston Transcript.)

Unsatisfied.
No one expected the supreme court decision in the Coronado coal case to satisfy radicals and the court is not likely to revise it to conform to their views. (Cincinnati Enquirer.)

Same Drawbacks.
Exclusion of the army of correspondents from the conference at The Hague will prevent the publication of news fiction, but also it leaves the world uninformed about the truth.

PROFITABLE DEMONSTRATION.
Given at Milford for the Benefit of County Calf Club Members.

Yesterday, at the school grounds in Milford, a profitable and successful demonstration was given under the direction of Ralph Q. Smith for the benefit of the members of the various calf clubs about the county. It was attended by about 50 members of these clubs in the central part of the county and a number of interested breeders and others.

In the morning a demonstration of judging, with the desirable point to be sought in breeding emphasized, was given by E. J. Cooper of Chicago, Ill., a specialist from the National Calf club, which was followed by a discussion of Feeding and Care, in which both Mr. Cooper and Mr. Smith participated.

In the afternoon, D. R. Zimmer of Syracuse, secretary of the Calf club of the New York State Holstein Friesian association, addressed the gathering, assuring the members of the local club of the earnest desire of the national and state organizations to help the boys in the work, and emphasizing the opportunity at the present time of low prices for pure bred stock to get a start in developing a herd of value.

Mr. Cooper followed with a demonstration of how best to fit calves for show or sale, suggesting clipping, washing and trimming and filing of horns.

Ellery Barney of Milford, who recently graduated from Cornell Agricultural college, specializing in live stock, talked to the boys upon points to keep in mind in building up a herd of cattle. Mr. Barney has been engaged for the coming year for the head of the animal husbandry department of the Delhi Agricultural school.

Nine calves, three two-year old heifers in milk, four yearlings and two calves of members of the clubs were brought to the grounds and were used in the demonstrations in calling attention to the points to be sought.

DAY OF REAL ENJOYMENT

Promised All Who Attend Opening of Stamford Country Club on July Fourth—Sports During Day and Dancing and Fireworks in the Evening.

Stamford, June 27.—A day of genuine enjoyment is promised all who attend the grand opening of the Stamford Country club on July fourth. You will escape the noisy boisterous celebrations of the cities and villages and find pleasure and enjoyment with many special features.

Stamford is one of the few mountain resorts which can boast of such a well-equipped golf club, and a standard 18-hole course. Yet it remained for the summer visitor to make this discovery. It is they more than the residents who make of this feature a social center, and it is with the idea of more fully acquainting everybody with Stamford's Country club that this gigantic opening has been arranged.

For those whose chief interest in a country club lies in golf, an exhibition match has been arranged for the morning. This is to be followed by a putting and approach contest. The village band, which has been rehearsing very faithfully this season, will be on hand to furnish the incidental music.

Bridge and five hundred enthusiasts will find card tables ready for the afternoon, and prizes will be awarded. For the baseball fan, double header games between the Stamford baseball club and the Jersey City Police have been arranged. These will be staged on the athletic field.

A fireworks display of unusual order will be held in the evening on the golf grounds. At the entrances to the course, patrols will be stationed to exact a toll of 25 cents, for those who plan to only come for the fireworks. It is hardly to be expected that anyone will demur at paying this small fee to see a pyrotechnic display, the cost of which will run into hundreds of dollars.

The usual seventy-five cent rate will prevail for the evening's dancing. The Midnight Sons orchestra will furnish the music, H. H. Mase of Churchill hall, where this orchestra plays during the season, having agreed to lend their services for the evening. This announcement in itself is a guarantee that it will be first-class and absolutely up-to-date.

Adequate parking space for automobiles will be provided. Each hotel and boarding house has agreed to see that the respective guests will reach the club. A large bus will make frequent trips from the center of the village.

A table d'hôte luncheon will be served throughout the day by "Victor," the caterer. A carte service will also be in force. It is urged, however, upon those desiring to give reservations in advance.

Private parties, that they make their Country club is not staging this day of entertainment as a money-making scheme, and the support and attendance of the public is urged. The entire affair is gotten up with the idea of acquainting outsiders with the possibilities of Stamford's club. It is doubtful if a single attraction will do as much to promote the growth of Stamford in popularity, so remember the date—July fourth—and decide to join the happy throng, and make of this a day of enjoyment that will be outstanding in the history of the Catskills.

—The final issue for the year of the "Echo," the high school students' publication, will be distributed following the commencement exercises this evening.

—Work is progressing favorably on the Maxie theatre and the laying of the terracotta face brick for the front of the building has commenced.

—Company G band will give its first concert of the summer this evening at 8 o'clock at Brown park. If the weather is unpleasant the concert will be postponed until Friday evening.

—The Oneonta Giants will open the season at Walton today against the clever aggregation representing that village. Walton defeated Unadilla 10 to 0 last Saturday and has a team that local authorities regard as one of the best in this section.

—Local fans to whom the playing out of the city of the Giants means a dull afternoon may satisfy their desire to see real baseball at Neahwa park this afternoon when the Pennsylvania division team engages the Champlain-Saratoga outfit in a double header. The Giants have been playing great ball lately and the contests should prove to be interesting battles. The first game will start at 2:30.

RECORD GRADUATING CLASS

Seventy Seniors Will Receive Diplomas at Commencement Exercises This Evening at High School.

Seventy young men and women, constituting the largest class ever to graduate from the Oneonta High school, will receive diplomas this evening at the commencement exercises to be held at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. The number of graduates exceeds by 10 the enrollment in the class last year, the largest to that time. Dr. George J. Dunn, superintendent of schools, will present the diplomas and Principal H. J. VanDeusen will award the two general scholarship prizes and the several departmental prizes. Orations will be delivered by five seniors selected by reason of the excellence of their scholastic work during the past year. In past years the speakers have been annoyed by the crying of children under three years of age who will be allowed in the auditorium. The school nurse will be in the kindergarten room on the first floor and mothers of small children are requested to leave them in her charge during the exercises with the assurance that they will be well taken care of.

Child Injured by Firecracker.

Lillian Hull, six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hull of 64 Dietz street, was slightly injured yesterday morning by the explosion of a firecracker dropped at her feet by a playmate. She was in a stooping posture tying her shoe and the fragments of the cracker struck her in the face, inflicting a slight cut over the right eye and filling her eye with powder. The girl was taken to the office of Dr. M. E. Brownell, who found that the injuries were inconsequential. In this connection it must be stated that there is a city ordinance expressly prohibiting the use of fireworks, unless otherwise authorized, except on the Fourth of July and parents should see that their children are not allowed to set off firecrackers and other contrivances before the Fourth.

Helping the Mob.

The first sewing machine that Howe exhibited was smashed to smithereens by an unbelieving mob. They called it a "Washinghouse" and it was a fool because it insisted that his airbrake would stop a train with wind. History shows that improvements almost always antagonize even those whom in the long run they most benefit. Well, I've been through all of this Tommy-rot, have won out and the mob is fast learning how I help them, but it has taken long, hard and unselfish work. I'm the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association. advt 1t

SWINDLER APPREHENDED

Arthur J. Burdette Arrested for Grand Larceny After Passing Bogus Check for $1,000 in Payment for Automobile. Evidently Preparing Another Swindle.

The effort of Arthur E. Burdette to obtain a new Hudson Super Six touring car by merely passing over in payment a worthless slip of paper has failed miserably and the young man is at present languishing in the city jail instead of driving his ill-gotten automobile about the countryside. When arraigned in city court yesterday afternoon, he was charged with grand larceny in the first degree and bail was set by Judge Huntington at $3,000, which sum Burdette is trying hard to raise. His arrest doubtless prevents at least one other swindle, as he was negotiating for the purchase of a Studebaker Burdette, who has been in the city for about three weeks, coming here from Little Falls, where he was employed as a chef in the Hotel Richmond, entered into negotiations with George J. Clute, salesman for the Wilber Motors corporation, for the purchase of a Hudson car. The deal was completed on Monday and Burdette gave Clute a check for $1,000 drawn on the Citizens' National bank in part payment, making a note for the balance of $995. He said that he had no account in the Citizens' bank at that time, but had a good sized account in the Albany Trust company and that he had written that institution to transfer the account here, adding that Mr. Stanton of the Citizens' bank had stated that the transfer should come through Monday or Tuesday. Mr. Clute accepted the check and delivered the car to Burdette.

Yesterday Mr. Clute went to the Citizens' bank and finding that Burdette had no money on deposit there as yet, telephoned the Albany Trust company, eliciting the information that the man never had an account there. The case was put into the hands of the local police and it was soon discovered that Burdette, who had told Clute that he was going to Cooperstown to obtain a license, had in reality started for Owego with Ford Tallmadge of the Texas lunch room, who had some business to transact in that place. The state troopers were notified and Burdette was apprehended at Port Crane and brought back to this city.

Burdette had been negotiating with Tallmadge for the purchase of the Texas lunch, and it is understood that the deal had been closed and that possession was to have been given today. A check made out to Tallmadge was found in Burdette's possession, and very probably his apprehension yesterday saved Tallmadge from being stung with a bad check as was Clute.

Another interesting fact concerning the case which came to light after the men had been arraigned, was that the suit which he was wearing had been stolen from a young man with whom he had been intimate. The lad had left the suit in a tailor shop to be cleaned and pressed, and Burdette had obtained it there, telling the tailor that the owner had sent him for it. That incident occurred some days ago and when called to account by the boy, Burdette replied that he would pay for the suit when his account had been transferred from Albany. His arrest stopped another probable attempt to pass a bogus check.

Burdette's people live in Owego and he wrote them last evening in an endeavor to secure bail. He claims that he enlisted in the United States army in 1916 and was discharged in 1917 for mental deficiency. He has made no attempt to deny his guilt, admitting that he never had an account in the Albany bank. Burdette is of French descent and is known about the city as "Frenchy."

What Next?

It has been some years since The Star chronicled the fact that a resident was driving a new horse and buggy. The pendulum of time has swung around, however, and carriage riding may prove to be the latest fad. Last fall William H. Lunn and Stuart M. Keenan purchased saddle horses, starting a craze which has developed into one of considerable dimensions. On Saturday Mr. Keenan acquired a new horse and is taking daily rides therewith. Others are contemplating similar action and the mode of travel of the long ago may soon be revived, in the city at least.

THE CLASS DAY DRAMA

One of the finest Class day programs ever witnessed at the High school was given by the members of this year's graduating class in the high school auditorium yesterday afternoon at 2:30. The exercises were presented in the form of a drama, in which were incorporated the class history, class will and class prophecy. The audience was greeted with several musical selections excellently executed by a splendid orchestra of four members of the senior class, with Elizabeth Haddock at the piano; Floyd Knapp, saxophone; Allan Bishop, traps; Anthony Lance, violin; Robert Marshall, saxophone. The prologue was an address delivered by the class president, Allan Bishop, by Virginia Colburn and incorporated in the trial scene from the "Merchant of Venice," was a masterly work. John Hotelling was excellent as the unrelenting Shylock, while Helen Capron as the pseudo judge was a most commanding figure in the court room scene. Most of the items of the class history were given in the pleading of Bassanio and Antonio, played by Ferris Hanford and James Neilligan. The "audience" company of girls in vari-colored dresses, was calculated to turn the heart of any jury.

The class will, as incorporated in the funeral scene from "Julius Caesar," adapted from the original Shakespeare play by Esther Beams, was ably given by Walter Burke in his role of Anthony, who was as impressive an orator as could be desired. Much mirth was provoked by the various bequests which were, as usual, of a most ridiculous character.

Fine opportunity for display of dramatic ability was afforded in the trial scene from "Midsummer Night's Dream," which was adapted by Helen Yagel. Elizabeth Cady, as Titania and Imogene Ackley, as Oberon, took their difficult parts exceptionally well. The audience was convulsed with laughter at the antics of Bottom, played by Gaylord Smith, who was so disguised as to be hardly recognizable. His reading of the class prophecy was equally mirth provoking, though it is safe to say that notwithstanding some of the dreadful futures in store for the members of the class according to his document, the class of 1922 will be a credit to themselves, their school and their community in years to come.

The epilogue, "All the World's a Stage," from "As You Like It," given by Robert Marshall, closed the program. The members of the class gathered on the platform and sang the school song, the words of which were written by Marguerite Cooke to the tune of "When Shall We Meet Again?" The class yell originated by Walter Burke was then given, followed by the school song. In a few well chosen words, the class president, Allan Bishop, presented a fine wall clock for the principal's office, the class gift. The afternoon's entertainment closed with numerous and hearty wells for various members of the faculty, particularly Miss Cowan, through whose efforts the Class day exercises were planned and directed, and from whom much help had been derived in planning entertainments during the school year.

TOURING CAR TURNS TURTLE

Large Touring Car of Charles Pickett of Buffalo Overturns Near Residence of F. G. Murdock Early This Morning—Mrs. Pickett at Hospital Suffering from Several Fractured Ribs.

This morning, about 12:30 o'clock, the large touring car of Charles Pickett was riding, touring eastward, ran up the embankment a half mile east of the city limits, near the residence of Justice Fred G. Murdock, and turned turtle backward. Mrs. Pickett was pinned beneath the overturned car, but the fact that the one end rested on the bank and the other on the shoulder of the highway doubtless saved her life.

She was picked up by Oneonta parties returning from commencement exercises at Hartwick Seminary and brought to the Fox Memorial hospital in this city, where Dr. Marx attended her. She is painfully injured and is believed to have several fractured ribs, though it is hoped that her injuries are not critical.

Mr. Pickett, escaped with slight bruises and is stopping at the Oneonta hotel for the night. Mr. Pickett offered no explanation of the cause of the accident and while it had been raining and the macadam was wet, it is thought that he may have fallen asleep, as the highway should not have been slippery enough to cause the car to swerve up the embankment, although there is a curve at the point where the accident happened. The car was damaged to some extent.

MAN STILL AT LARGE

Swindler Who Has Polack's $4,000 Not Yet Apprehended — Is Known to Have Gone Toward Binghamton.

There were no developments in the Paganovich swindle case yesterday, although the police were active throughout the day. Chief Horton, Officer Simmons and the unfortunate Pole left by automobile for unknown points Monday evening and had not returned late last evening, nor had they been heard from. It is possible that the have a definite clue which they are running down.

It has been brought out that the man still wanted for the crime got back on the train which he quitted at Sidney after his accomplice had been apprehended. A traveling man notified the police yesterday that a man whom he supposed to be the one wanted ran for the train as it was starting and swung himself into the vestibule of the last car over the rear gate. It is also reported that the man was seen boarding a New York train at Binghamton immediately following the arrival of the D. & H. train.

Joseph Servin, the man in custody here, is very reticent about his companion and the police have been unable to secure any information of any value from him. He is somewhat discomfited because of his easy capture. He stated last evening to a Star representative that he would have escaped capture if he had only had his wits about him. He is a youngish chap and had been described as such. He is considerably built, however, and his theory is that if he had bent his head so that the bald spot could be seen that the officers would have passed him by, thinking that he was an elderly man.

Universalist Social Club.

The last regular meeting of the Social club of the Universalist church was held Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Westcott, 161 Chestnut street.

The evening was greatly enjoyed by the large number present. While delicious refreshments were being served, the hostess supplied the guests with a large birthday cake in honor of three of the members, having birthdays during the week. Throughout the house were huge bunches of roses which were given the guests on their departure.

Among those present was Miss Helene Ulrich, one of the pastors of the Church of the Divine Paternity, New York city.

DIVORCED COUPLE TO MARRY.

Cooperstown Man to Re-Marry Binghamton Woman Who Divorced Him.

Binghamton, June 27.—A shattered romance was patched up almost as good as new at the City Clerk's office Friday afternoon, when City Clerk Archie B. Jones issued a marriage license to a couple divorced less than a year ago.

The applicants were Orange G. Woodhouse of Cooperstown and Cora M. Woodhouse of 26 Tremont avenue. The records showed that they were divorced at a term of court in Broome county on Aug. 26, 1921.

According to the story told the city officials, Woodhouse sought employment in Cooperstown last spring. The separation of the couple resulted in a cooling of the fires of love and the divorce was granted. Later a reconciliation was effected through the efforts of relatives and Woodhouse proposed marriage to his former wife. She accepted and the marriage license was issued.

MRS. DELIA M. WATERMAN

Aged Worcester Woman, Who Died in Albany, Laid to Rest Yesterday Afternoon in Maple Grove Cemetery.

Worcester, June 27.—Funeral services for the late Mrs. Delia M. Waterman were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of her son, Attorney J. S. Waterman, with Rev. R. F. Lesh, pastor of the local Methodist church, officiating. The local was in the family plot in Maple Grove cemetery. There was a large attendance of relatives and townspeople.

Delia M. Waterman was born at the town of Coxsack, Greene county, April 15th, 1834, and died at the home of her daughter, Grace S. Waterman, at Albany, June 25th, 1922. She was one of the eleven children born to Joshua Salisbury and Ann Houghtaling, his wife. She was an early pioneer stock. Her ancestors on her father's side were English and settled in early Colonial times in New York city. Her father was a noted millwright, and a prominent farmer and resided for many years in the town of Westford. On her mother's side, she came from sturdy Dutch stock. She could trace her ancestry back to the Houghtalings of Holland in the sixteenth century.

In 1864 she was married to Paul Waterman, and shortly thereafter moved on a farm, in what is known as the County, in the town of Westford, near Worcester. Here they resided, with the exception of two years, until the death of her husband in 1912. A few years after their marriage the young couple joined the Methodist Episcopal church of Worcester and both remained consistent members thereof until the time of their deaths.

Three children were born to her, two of whom survive, Attorney J. S. Waterman of Worcester and Grace S. Waterman of the State Educational Department of Albany. Two grandsons, John and Paul Waterman, sons of J. S. Waterman, and one sister, Mrs. Leonard Elmore, are living, as are various descendants of her brothers and sisters.

During the later years of her life, she suffered from blindness, but a series of operations partially restored her sight and gave her the power to read. She loved to read her Bible, books, and the newspapers. Although restricted in her activities by reason of her affliction she kept her interest in life and in the events of the day. She was a home-keeping and home-loving woman, devoted to her family, a good wife and mother.

How did your neighbor's last bargain tire turn out

PROBABLY you know at least one car-owner who is always on the look-out for the cheapest tires he can find. He likes to get them by mail or at a sale or at some place where they have big red bargain signs over the door.

It would be fine if he could get "the edge" in every tire trade.

But the dealer can't afford to let him have it.

Even if a man saw any slight percentage in tire shopping at all—it disappeared when the "Usco" brought the price down.

A standard product—and the dealer sells it with pride.

A good tire. The dealer has no desire to trade you into a larger profit for himself.
